Superintendent's Report

To the School Board of Milton :

GENTLEMEN :—My annual report upon the condition of your schools is not due until the end of the school year, but I think that some general information should be given to the public at this time.

No important changes have been made this year in the organization of the school system of Milton. The number of schools in operation is the same as last year, and the number of teachers employed is the same.

For many years the schools of New Hampshire have been organized upon the so-called eight-four plan,—that is, eight years of elementary work followed by four years of high school. In 1916 a new program was prepared, which provides for six years of elementary work followed by two years of junior high, and this rounded out by four years of high school. This program was officially adopted by the State Board of Education last Spring.

Of course the change from one program to the other must be made gradually. We are working this year upon a modification of the old program, but expect to bring the first three grades up to the standard set by the new program. We should be making plans to convert the seventh and eighth grades into junior high schools in the near future. I think it quite possible to provide for at least one year's work of this kind next year, and I advise that you give this plan your careful consideration.

In common with the rest of the country we found some difficulty in finding enough teachers for our schools this year. In fact we lacked two teachers when the time came to open the schools. However, we were able to open these schools under substitute teachers and soon after secured permanent ones. In both cases we were fortunate in finding very competent teachers to fill these positions. It seems certain that the shortage of teachers throughout the country will be even more acute next year.

To meet the requirements of standard school buildings established by the State Board, we found it necessary to make some alterations and repairs upon the buildings at Milton Mills, South Milton, Nute Ridge, and Hare Road. It was a pleasure to me to see the willingness and business-like way in which the School Board handled this problem.

The problem of the school which we maintain at South Milton in partnership with the City of Rochester is one which deserves careful consideration. Milton has only six pupils in this school at the present time. Located upon the state road it would be easy to transport these children to the village schools, where there is plenty of room to take care of them and where they can be given much greater advantages. I believe that it would be much better for the children and no more costly for the town to dissolve this district, which can be legally done by vote of Milton School District, and transport the pupils to the village.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the School Board for the assistance which they have given me in working out our school problems.

Respectfully submitted

FRED W. DUDLEY,

Superintendent of Schools
